As The Seasons Change

In winter snow covers the ground giving Mother Nature a warm blanket to protect the growth of the seasons to come.

The awakening of the summer sun brings a welcome relief from winter's perils.

So Have We, Thru —

ADVANCEMENT

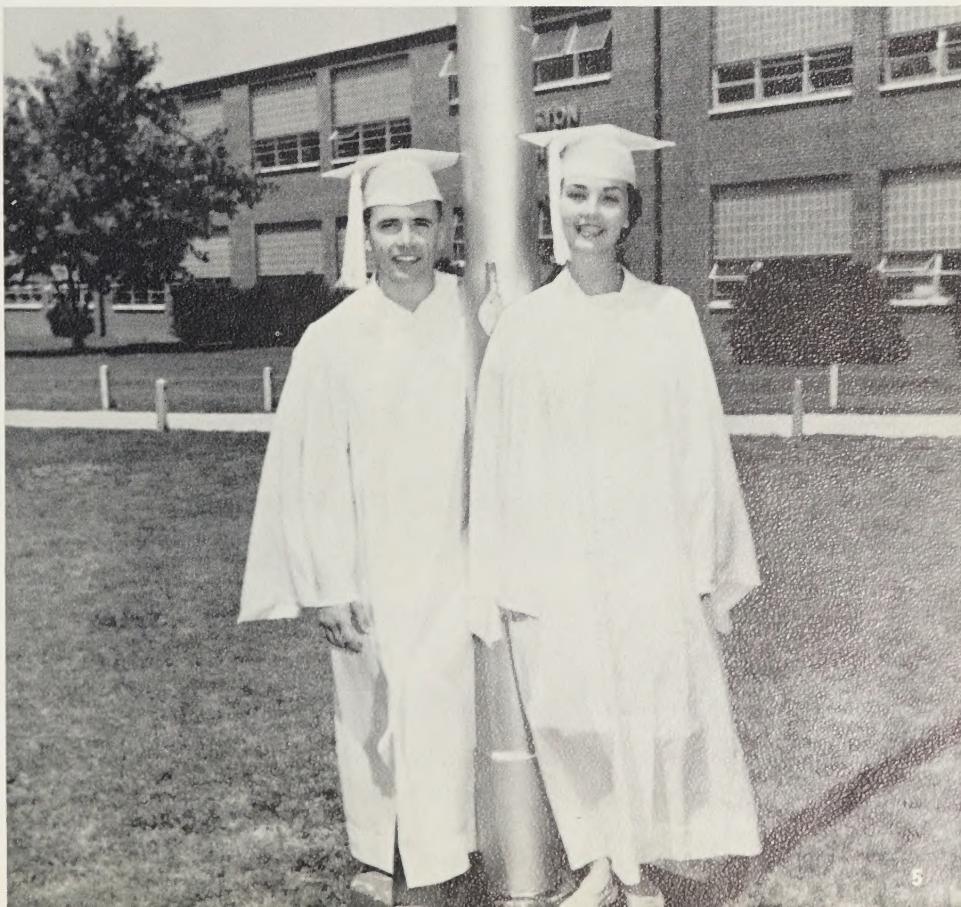

Jr. - High is the first big step toward our changing high school life . . .

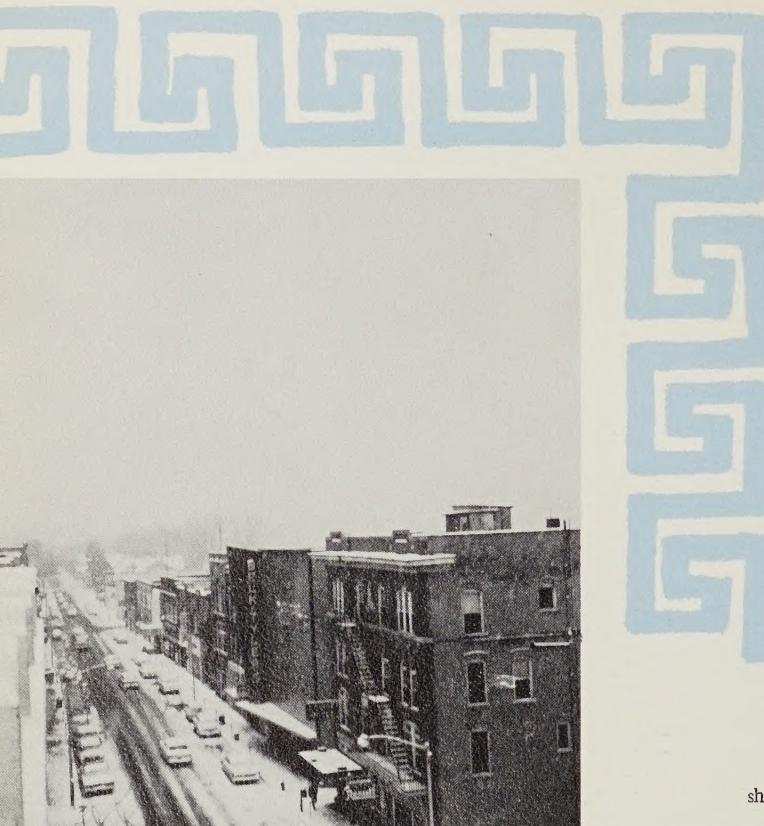

In LEARNING

And before we realize it a milestone has been reached.

As Winter Brings

Storms . . .

Winter - the season for snow.

The storms of winter cast a dark shadow over Pamlico life.

The handbook and registration card are symbols of the up-and-coming freshman.

Few may know what lies ahead.

Our Freshman Year Brings Uncertainty

Washington

High

1961

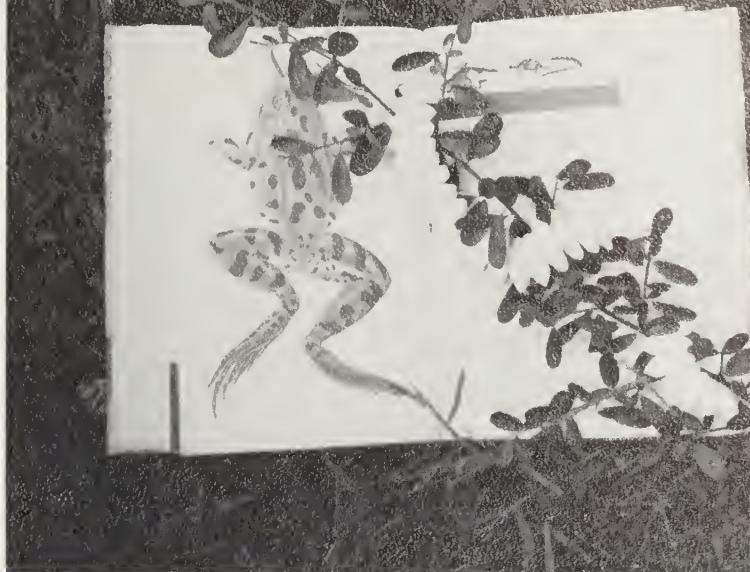

Fall - the colorful season.

As Fall Brings A Brighter Outlook . . .

The outlook a sophomore takes on life often changes with coming years.

New and different adventures await anticipating Sophomores.

Our Sophomore Year Enlightens Our Minds

A new day brightens our spirits

As Spring Brings Change . . .

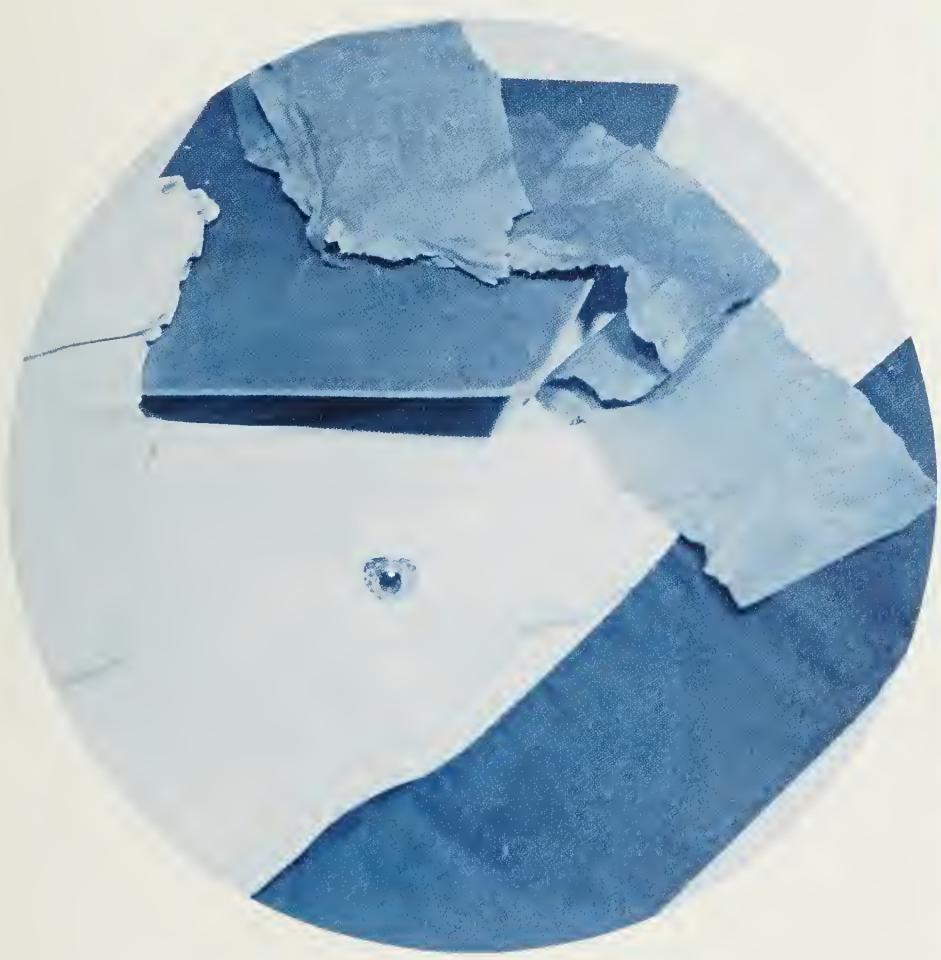

Spring - the season of promise.

From boots to bare feet.

Our Junior Year Brings Variety!

A year of variety - capping, Junior-Senior, class rings, marshals, etc.

As Summer Brings A Vacation . . .

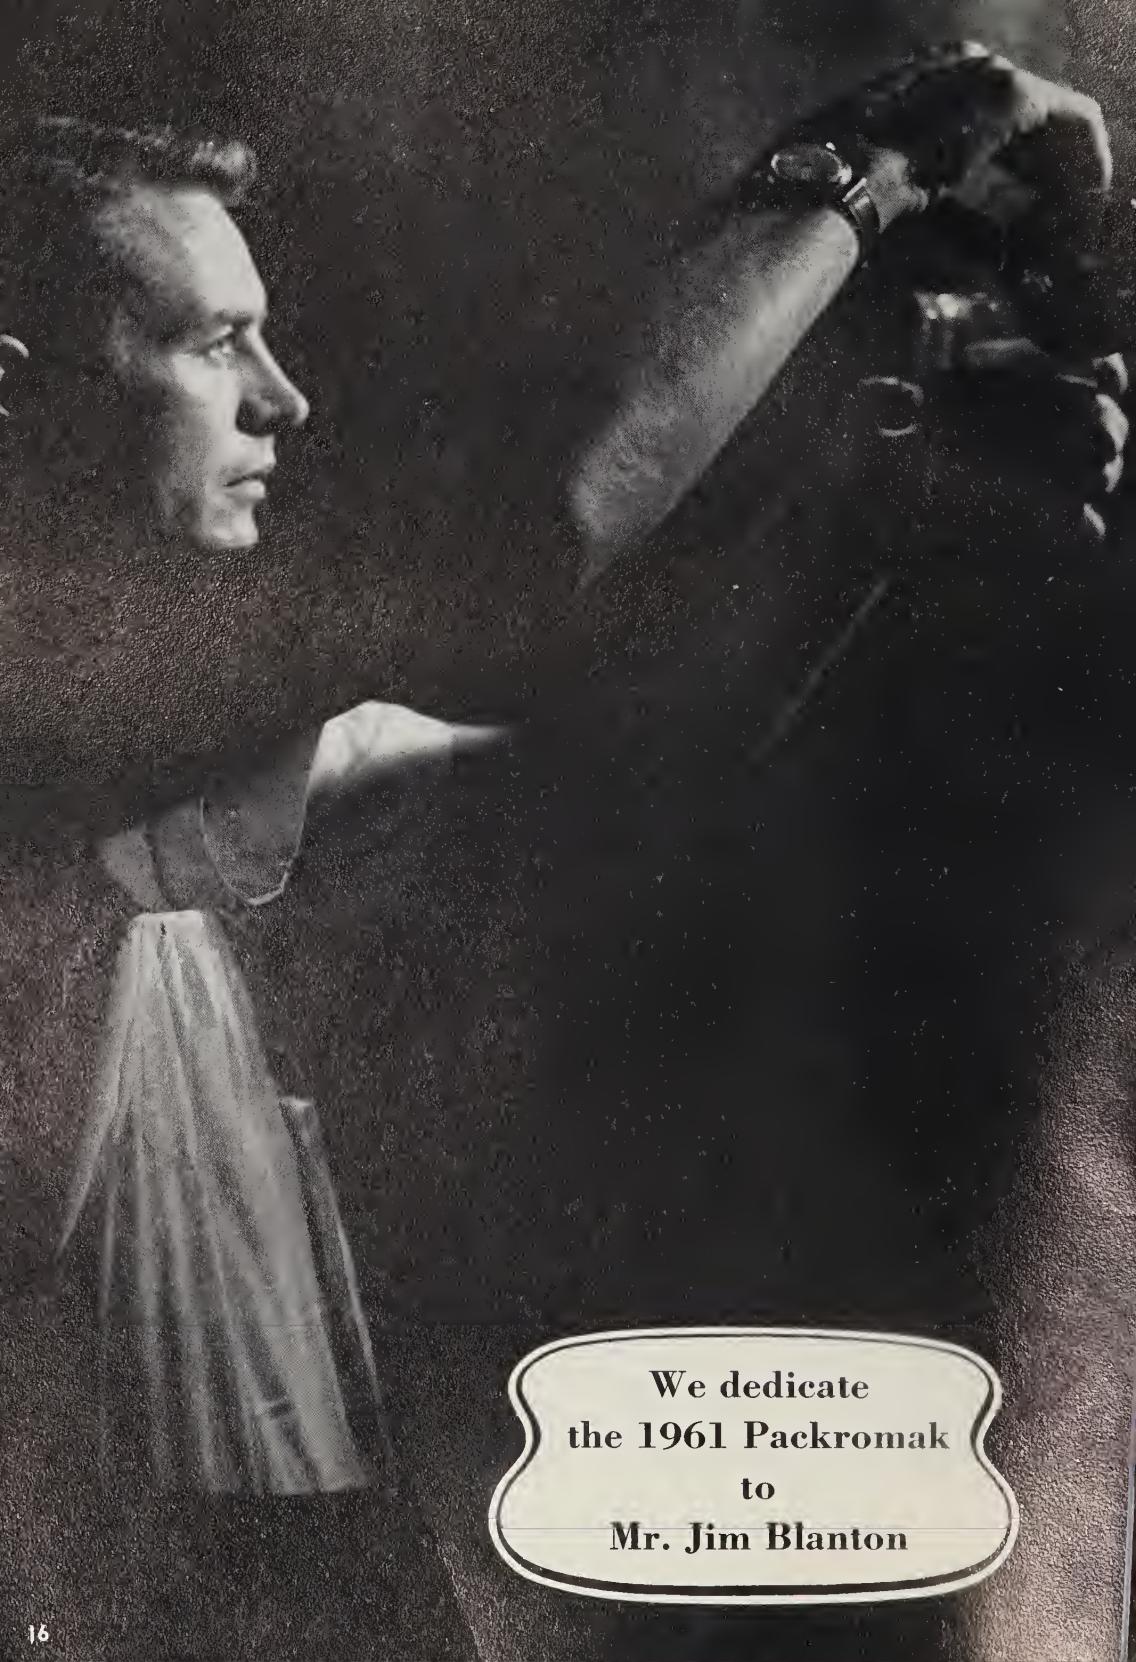

It's all over for another year.

Hail, Alma Mater, we sing our praise to thee!

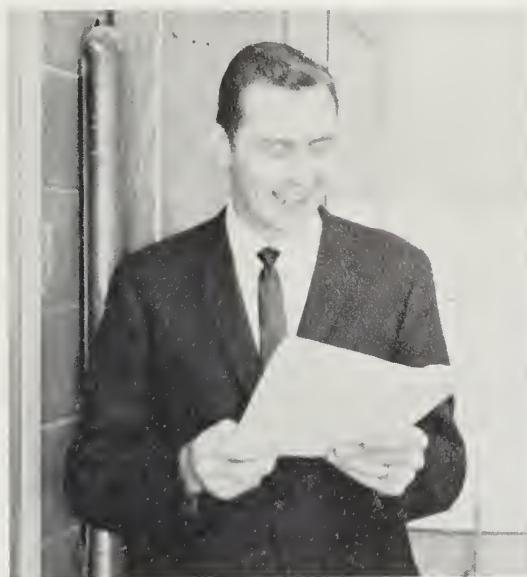

Our Senior Year

Ends Our Labors!

We dedicate
the 1961 Packromak
to
Mr. Jim Blanton

MR. BLANTON — LOVED . . .

Mr. Blanton, one of the best known and best liked members of the Washington High School Faculty, is always ready with a smile. For this and many other reasons we have dedicated the 1961 PACKROMAK to Mr. Jim B. Blanton.

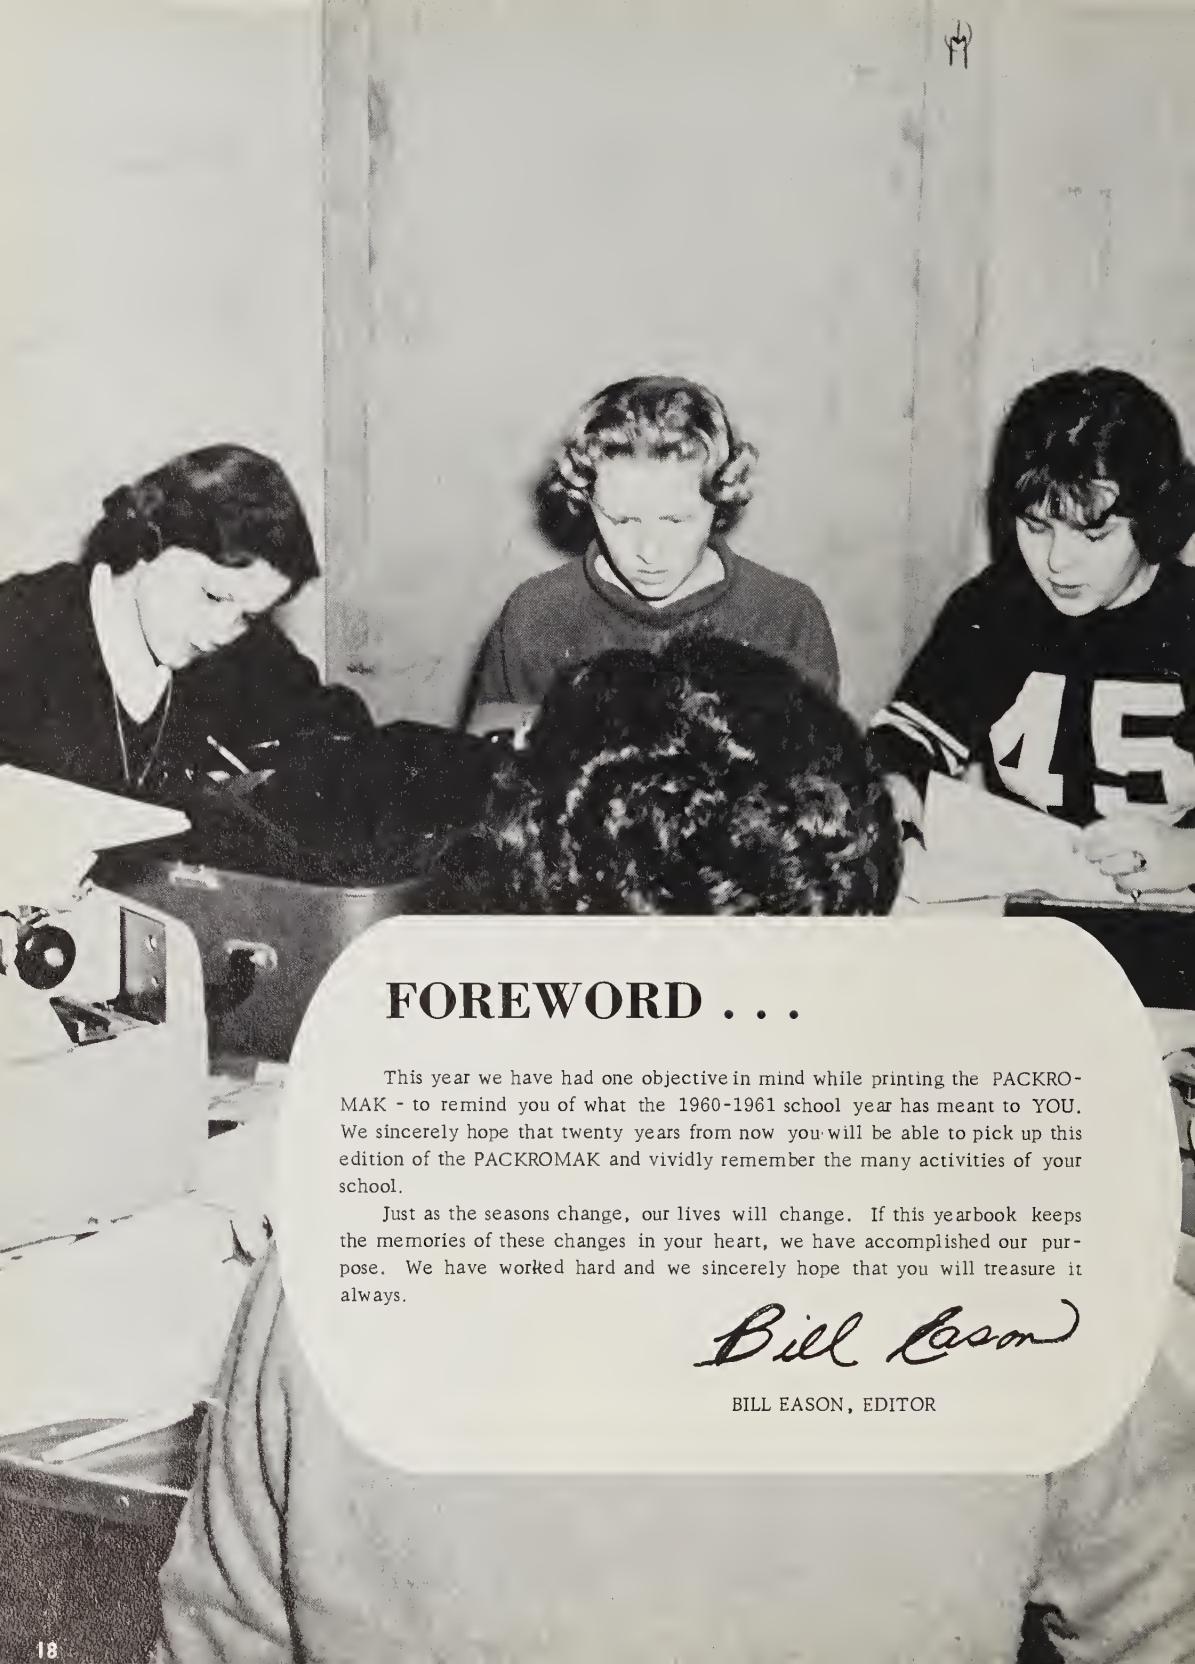

AND RESPECTED!

Last year Mr. Blanton had a science project to win a fourth award in the NATIONAL SCIENCE FAIR, which is a very big honor for any teacher or student.

Mr. Blanton has encouraged the growth of science at W. H. S. and has been invaluable in his interest in his students.

A black and white photograph showing three students in what appears to be a classroom or workshop setting. In the center, a student with curly hair is focused on a large, dark, textured object, possibly a sculpture or a large arrangement of dried flowers. To the left, another student is visible, and to the right, a student wearing a dark t-shirt with the number '45' is also working on the same object. The background is plain and light-colored.

FOREWORD . . .

This year we have had one objective in mind while printing the PACKROMAK - to remind you of what the 1960-1961 school year has meant to YOU. We sincerely hope that twenty years from now you will be able to pick up this edition of the PACKROMAK and vividly remember the many activities of your school.

Just as the seasons change, our lives will change. If this yearbook keeps the memories of these changes in your heart, we have accomplished our purpose. We have worked hard and we sincerely hope that you will treasure it always.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Washington Junior-Senior High School
JOE T. KORNEGAY, PRINCIPAL
ELIZABETH BOWEN, SECRETARY

DIAL WH 6-3257
WASHINGTON N.C.

To the Students,
This year has seemed a marked improvement in the attitude of students and teachers toward school work. The behavior has been better. Most students have shown a real determination to get the most from their school experience. If present trends continue, this could be the best year ever at Washington High School.

I express to our departing seniors my best wishes for the future. It is hoped that your experiences here have been pleasant and profitable. Your success in the future will be our reward for our effort in your behalf. May this fine edition of the Packromak be a reminder of Washington High School's finest year.

Sincerely,

Joe T. Kornegay
Principal

Class Poet

CLASS POEM

CLASS OF 1961

The years we've spent together here
Have, all too quickly, flown,
And now we have to say good-by
To schoolday joys we've known.
At last, the time has come to go
And face the world alone.

We bid farewell to old classmates
Who shared our joys and tears.
The smiles of friends made doubts seem small
When life seemed filled with fears.
New friends will never be as true
As you were through the years.

The victories and defeats we shared
Shall long remembered be,
And they will always hold a spot
Within our memory.
We'll ne'er forget those days gone by
When we were young and free.

We know not what the future holds;
Fate can be cruel or kind.
Which will it be? Success? Defeat?
We wonder which we'll find.
But, throughout life, we'll ne'er forget
Schooldays we've left behind.

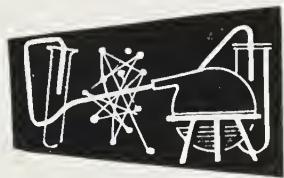

Those days of joy are over now;
The long-sought goal is won.
Through mischief or constructiveness,
We've left few things undone,
And none of us will e'er forget
The Class of '61!

LAST WILL AND

State of North Carolina
County of Beaufort
City of Washington

We, the Senior class of nineteen hundred and sixty-one, being of sound body and not too sound mind, do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament, rendering void all other wills and documents that may have been made previously.

ARTICLE I. To the Superintendent, Principal and Teachers we leave (finally!).

ARTICLE II. To the Junior Class, our rightful heirs, we leave the few following privileges:

1. Reserved tables in the cafeteria.
2. Senior Trip.
3. Going to the library at lunch period.
4. Reserved seats in the auditorium.
4. Leaving the auditorium first.

ARTICLE III. To the Sophomores we leave the job of selling magazines and preparing the Junior-Senior next year.

ARTICLE IV. To the Freshmen we leave the hope of someday becoming a Senior.

ARTICLE V. To the rising Senior Class we leave the following:

1. Ted Day's jarring tackles to Larry Poore.
2. Robin Roberson and Bill Horton's considerate ways to Troy Boyd and Judy Dudley.
3. Glenda Day and Terry Baker's status as "steadies" to Bill Leggett and Helen Everson.
4. Sue Webster, Pat Jefferson, Peggy Jackson, and Faye Waters's appeal to older boys to Diane Garris
5. Charles Parker's enchanting smile to Phil Moore
6. Tommy Jackson's artistic abilities to Don Miller.
7. Bobby Roberson, Lamar Swain, and Mary Tankard's friendliness to Missy Harrington, Eleanor Rodman, and Larry Congleton.
8. Diane Woolard and Orion Peevy's school spirit of Tomarie Peevy and Dick Leach.
9. Bill Andrew's carefree ways to Donald Jones.
10. Tommy Boyd and Bill Eason's responsible attitudes to Sara Moss, Ernie Larkin, Anne Gray Kornegay, and Grey Winfield.
11. Kent Denton's love of the game to Robbie Cameron, and Joe Leggett.
12. Clarice Mason, Carolyn Parrott, and Sam Grimes's studious ways to Tommy Patterson, Barry Giddings, Paula Stoltz, and Jane Alligood.
13. Eldon Turner and Gene Swindell's ability to "hot rod" to Gary Upton and Larry Smith.

TESTAMENT

14. Sandra Freeman, Eli Saleeby, Sue Beckham, and Steve Alligood, and Hardy Ray Corey's ability to "converse" to Lydia Worsley, Alyce Williams, Lou Lane, and Alton Woolard.
15. Nancy Singleton's job in the library to any Junior who likes to walk!
16. Frances Dudley's position as piano accompanist to anybody in the Junior Class who wants it! (Choral Department).
17. Butch Howell, Billy Weatherly, and Katherine Phelps's argumentative ways to Freddie Harwell, Ashton Bulifant, and Ann Swain.
18. "Jo" Tankard's quietness to Judy Flowers.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

MACBETH was fresh in my mind. In fact, it had been the only thing in my mind for the last few weeks, and now I had to write the class history. I closed my eyes and tried to think. Suddenly in front of me, cackling and pointing a crooked finger toward me as she stirred the pot with her other hand, was one of the ugly old witches. I began to realize that she was talking about things which were familiar to me; and as the smoke curled around her crooked nose and through her scraggly hair, time seemed to move back to 1949, our first year in school.

What a thrill finally to be in school playing all the new games and drawing funny looking pictures. Shall we ever forget the first and second grades?

The Gay Nineties Revue brought us fame; for never had third grade students put on such a colorful spectacle. In the fourth grade as we struggled with our multiplication tables, we took our first trip, a sightseeing tour of Bath.

Geography and club work were the highlights of the fifth grade, but we cannot help remembering the thrill of reaching the sixth grade and being in "high school." We were really growing up now, and to top it all, this was the year of our first Junior Prom!

Then came Williamsburg in the seventh grade. What an interesting trip that was! We thought there would never be another trip to equal it, but we found out differently the next year when we visited Raleigh, Durham, and Chapel Hill.

Finally, we became freshmen with a new outlook on life and with a desire to do better in all things. During this year our boys playing on the Junior Varsity teams made us very proud of them. One of the highlights of the year was the Latin Club Banquet.

Realizing that the years were slipping by, we, the sophomores, were busy working especially with our insect collections in biology. As time for the Junior-Senior Prom approached, the sophomores put on quite a show as waiters and waitresses.

Shall we ever forget that busy junior year; beginning with the class elections, followed by the magazine sales, and the arrival of the class rings? Naturally, to us there was never a Junior-Senior to equal "The Arabian Nights." Probably the greatest thrill of all that year was the impressive capping ceremony and the realization that our senior year was practically upon us.

Now our senior year is slipping by. The stationery sales were the largest ever, and surely the senior trip to Washington, D.C., was the finest ever. The senior play followed by the various club activities and banquets kept us busy. Finally, commencement was upon us with all the bustle and excitement of that last week of school and the final thrill of receiving that cherished diploma.

The witch began to fade away, and in a moment the scene was gone; but not the vision I had seen, because in just a few moments the past of the Class of '61 had flashed before me. With such a history behind us, one would have to expect success and good fortune for this class of seniors.

COMING —

This year the Washington Pam Pack played host to Tarboro. They were well represented in the parade by their sponsor, Kate Smoot.

The purpose of Homecoming, good sportsmanship, was exemplified by the Spanish Club's float of "Good Neighbors." It won first place among the other floats.
